CONNECTIONS

People we've learnt from.

One of our core values is Connection. We believe that we make a bigger difference by working with others and connections are the start of relationships which deepen our sense of who we are, amplify our voice and increase our ability to shape the world around us. When we were working out our Code, what we believed in and how we would work we wanted to grow our impact, not our size and to keep learning from others. We have met some amazing people, doing amazing things both on our doorstep, across the country and across the world. Our work, thinking and lives are the better for having them in our network. They are all living our values of being authentic, people we trust and who not only talk also act. We invite you to look at our connections and connect with those who speak to you.
